“非安定的、陌生的、流动的异国土地，
对故乡山与海与人的想念，
这些经历为她奠定的割裂情绪，
构成了馨文画中独有的忧郁和炙热。”

Chapter 2 夜晚的用度

夜晚的我会变成骆驼，驼峰里满满装着酒。
夜比沙漠还漫长，
蝎子尾巴轻轻刺着我的脚底。
有韵律的 一下又一下。

你好，10361号陌生月亮。
你落下一颗炸弹，摧毁湖中存档几千条月的倒影。
我们听说， 那是颇为沉痛的欢愉。

Chapter 6 柔性入迷

"Soft Fascination"

originates from William James' concept of involuntary attention, where unconscious attention arises effortlessly. It is a form of attention we naturally experience in nature.

In nature,
we are drawn to phenomena like clouds and sunsets,
swaying tree leaves in a gentle breeze,
waterfalls, streams, the sounds of birds,
or the murmurs of the wind.

These soothing sights and sounds relax our minds, providing space for contemplation and restoring the ability to think clearly.
This is the essence of "forest bathing."
